

Privacy Policy for our Facebook page

Thank you for visiting our Facebook page. Your privacy is our top priority. This document is designed to provide you with details of how we protect it.

We use the technical platform and the services of Facebook Ireland Ltd., 4 Grand Canal Square Grand Canal Harbor, Dublin 2, Ireland for the information service offered here.

We hereby expressly inform you bear the responsibility for your use of this Facebook page and its functions. This is especially true for the use of interactive features (e.g., commenting, sharing, rating). Alternatively, you can also access the information offered on these pages via our website; a link to our website is provided in the "Info" section of our Facebook page.

When you visit our Facebook page, Facebook collects, among other things, your IP address and other information that exists in the form of cookies on your PC. This information is used to provide us, as the provider of this Facebook page, with statistical information on the use of the Facebook page.

FOR MORE INFORMATION, PLEASE CONTACT FACEBOOK USING THE FOLLOWING LINK:

<http://de-de.facebook.com/help/pages/insights>.

The data collected about you in this context are processed by Facebook Ltd. and, where appropriate, transferred to countries outside the European Union. What information Facebook receives and how it is used is described in general terms by Facebook in its data use policy. This also contains information about contact options for Facebook and your settings options for advertisements.

THE DATA USAGE GUIDELINES ARE AVAILABLE VIA THE FOLLOWING LINK:

Facebook does not provide clear and definitive information on how it uses the data collected during visits to the Facebook page for its own purposes, to what extent activities on the Facebook page are associated with individual users, how long Facebook stores these data for, or whether data collected during visits to the Facebook page is passed on to third parties. As such, we possess no such information.

When you access a Facebook page, the IP address assigned to your end device will be transmitted to Facebook.

Facebook also stores information about its users' end devices (e.g., as part of the "login notification" feature); as such Facebook may be able to associate IP addresses with individual users.

If you are currently logged in to Facebook as a user, there will be a cookie containing your Facebook ID on your device.

This allows Facebook to conclude that you have visited this page and how you have used it. This also applies to all other Facebook pages. Facebook can use the Facebook buttons embedded in web pages, to record your visits to these web pages and associate them with your Facebook profile. This data can be used to provide you with targeted content or advertising.

If you want to avoid this, you should log out of Facebook and/or disable the "stay logged in" feature, delete the cookies on your device, and exit and restart your browser. This will delete any Facebook information that can be used to directly identify you. This will allow you to use our Facebook page without revealing your Facebook ID. When you access the site's interactive features (Like, Comment, Share, News, etc.), a Facebook login screen will appear. If you log in at any point, Facebook will once again be able to identify you as a specific user.

FOR INFORMATION ON HOW TO MANAGE OR DELETE EXISTING INFORMATION ABOUT YOU, VISIT THE FOLLOWING FACEBOOK SUPPORT PAGES:

As the provider of the information service, we shall not collect or process any additional data that can be acquired from your use of our service.

You can view the latest applicable version of this Privacy Policy in the "Privacy" section of our Facebook page.

The processing of personal data on this Facebook page constitutes a legitimate interest on the part of our business or a third party. Unless said interest is outweighed by the interests, basic rights and basic freedoms of the data subject, Art. 6, Para. 1(f) of the GDPR shall provide the legal basis for the processing.

You possess the following rights in accordance with the applicable data privacy laws:

- Right of access
- Right to rectification, erasure or restriction of processing
- Right to object
- Right to data portability
- Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority responsible for data protection
- Withdrawal of consent

The controller responsible for the provision of the Facebook page is listed in the Legal notice (Impressum) section of the page.

We have appointed a data protection officer for our business; for contact details, please refer to the privacy policy on our website.
